Watch for special announcements and events.

Christmas in the Park: We will have a few more work Thursdays beginning October 6 at 5:00p. The igloo and penguins are ready for lights, please help.

Do not forget to work your shift at the Hostfest!!!

Program: Joint Service Club Mtg.
Kickoff to Hostfest

The annual joint service club meeting was held at the Grand International Inn to kickoff the start of the 2009 Norsk Hostfest.

With many distinguished guests from across the USA, Canada, Norway and other Scandinavian countries the event is always enjoyable.

This year's Hostfest Queen is Nora Mihalick the daughter of former Sertoman, Tim and his wife Laura Mihalick.

The highlight of the noon luncheon was a speech by Republican political strategist, Carl Rove, who would be inducted into the Norsk Hostfest Hall of Fame along with our very own, Al Larson.

Mr. Rove spoke of his Norwegian heritage and of his father who was an ambassador from Norway to the USA. It was a message that noted that hard work not handouts lead immigrants to achieve great things.

Contrary to the picture to the left Kevin Ternes had nothing to do with the event except to partake in the meal. There was security present so it amazed most of us that they let Kevin get this close to Carl.

Tom Warsocki is charged with programs for October, if you have ideas please contact Tom at thomas.warsocki@trinityhealth.org

Neil Scharpe indicated that his group will meet again to light new displays at Oak Park on Thursday at about 5:00p. The igloo and penguin display is painted and requires wiring. It is a big display so the more people we have the easier it will be.
Come and join us for a fun evening.
